hape, there is nothing, he said, more to be deprecated than such a result. The father of our country had warned them over and over again against the hancful influence, of party excitement; and where republics have been destroyed, they have been destroyed chiefly by this cause. But the most dargerous of party influences is sectional partizanship. If this country is to take the lead over every nation of the earth, every man must see the necessity of union. Union is strength, and division is weakness. The great question, therefore, is: Are we to continue strong, or are we to continue weak? Now, there are men, both in the Northern and Southern sections of the Union, who wish to rule by creating sectional divisions; and if they are too small to think of ruling over the whole, they wish at least, to rule over a part. Every patriot is ready to raise his voice, and to go farther, if necessary, to ward of such a deplorable result. (Applause.)

Mr. Gro. G. Belliews then came forward and read the following address:—

We are betrayed transferred and offered

Mr. Grio, G. Bellows then came forward and read the following address:—

TO THE WIIIGS OF NEW YORK.

We are betrayed—transferred—and offered up as cattle in the shambles to mock democrais and abo itionists. They who have had hold of the machinery of our party have disposed of us as mere machines, and have thought no more of a transfer of two hundred and forty or fifty thousand human beings than of two hundred and forty or fifty thousand human beings than epitics of a Clay, a Westser, a Harrison, a Unitenden, a Graham, a Choaire, an Everett, a Vinton, a Bates, an Evras a lituit, a dranger, are and declared dead, and we are insvisuo a uneral procession to bury ourselves yet living, in the procession of the south by the state of belaware, on the north by Nigarra Falla, and east by Cape Cod or Cape Ann. mammed as Maine has declared herself as not belonging to this new prographical party. Mr. Brizows then proceeded to read the following prearable and resolutions:—

Whereas, the whip party was established by its great founders. Henry (lay ad. Insiel Welveler and others, to maintain and to viniticate certain thing principles—such as the developement and projection of American insulsity from the unduacompellion of ferrigin labor and foreign industry, and for the development of the internal resolutions of energaciting federal executive power against the rights of the people—the recent alandoment of all these principles by men possessing themselves of the mere machinery of this party, at Syracuse, and the transfer of it to the mock demogracy and abolitionism of the State, is frecherous to a trust and treasonable to our

Resolved. That the spirit and principles of our lumnortal

The whig party was made for the American, and not for the African.

Resolved, therefore, That the recent delivery of the whig party, at Syracuse, over to mock democrats and abolitionists, by men happening to have in their hands the mere machinery of that carry is treachery to all our principles and precedents for a quarter of a century, and that tuch treachery ought to be resisted in every possible and have the residency ought to be resisted in every possible and have the control of the control of

There were here calls for Ware, but that gentleman was nowhere.

Mr. Jasos Busons again took the stand, and proposed a resolution giving the thanks of the whigs of this city to those who protested in Syracuse against the absorbtion of the whig party into that of the abolitionists. In connection with this resolution he would say that whatever was overwhelmingly the vote of the city of New York, was always the vote of the State of New York, and of the United States of America. He proposed three cheers for the whig delegates who had seceded at Syracuses.

The cheers were given, and the resolution was adopted. And then, on a motion—after "three cheers for the whig party, what's left of them"—the meeting dissolved at 0 o'clock with manifestations of much enthusiasm in the cause.
